

Hidden Wealth Legacy Interview

The real wealth is not in the money, but in the memories we make. The purpose of this interview process is to capture the real wealth from our family members that will enable us to learn from, keep and pass on from generation to generation. My prayer is that you would take action and initiative and interview your loved ones regardless of their age to capture what is truly important. I have found that the insights and perspectives learned are amazing. I promise you will learn more than you knew before and will be blessed in doing so as well as blessing those you interview. You will never regret this experience and my only request is that you encourage those you love and care about to do the same.

QUESTIONS:

Where and when were you born?

what were your parents' names?

Briefly tell us about your ancestry?

Where there any unusual circumstances about the time Place or world conditions when you were growing up as a child?

How many brothers and sisters do/did you have?

What are two or three find memories of growing up?

What are the specific fun memories you have of each of your children and grandchildren?

What schools did you attend?

Who's your favorite teacher and why were they your favorite?

What were your favorite subjects in school and why?

What did you study for your vocation, professional training and employment including any degrees obtained?

Tell us about any special assignments such as missionary service military service community service?

What church callings have you had in which ones did you enjoy the most?

What occupations have you been employed in which was your favorite and why?

Share with us a brief history of your work and professional endeavors?

What are your favorite hobbies and pastimes?

If you had the choice what would you choose to do more of?

From what others tell you what did they say you were good at what are your talents and unique abilities?

How did you meet your spouse?

What are two or three fond memories of your child rearing years?

What have been some of your most embarrassing moments?

Where have you traveled what were some of your favorite trips and vacations?

What are your favorite holidays and why?

Tell us about other favorites food movies sports?

What are some of your family traditions?

What are you most passionate about right now?

What is important to you?

Who is important to you?

Who has had a significant impact on your life and why?

What do you love about your life?

What do you want to accomplish before you depart this earth?

Imagine it is three years from today and you were looking back over those last three years to today, what has to happen during that three-year period for you to feel happy with your progress that you made?

Tell us about your first kiss?

Tell us what you love most about each of your children and grandchildren?

What you love the most about your spouse about your mother about your father about your siblings?

What's worth keeping track of daily?

What's worth always measuring what's worth saving or preserving?

What's worth investing time energy and or money in?

What's worth remembering permanently?

What's worth sacrificing for?

What's worth fighting for?

What's worth dying for?

What's worth always doing every year every quarter every month every week every day why?

What are you most grateful for?

If you could share your best pearl of wisdom for others, what would that be?